

Overview of Services

Profit Recovery Solutions (PRS) provides Transaction Analysis & Recovery Solutions which deliver our clients significant profit and cash flow improvements within short timescales, together with process and system changes to ensure sustainability into the medium term, all covered by our no results, no fee guarantee.

For over 35 years profit recovery firms have consistently identified human and system errors that account for up to 0.1% of turnover. This rate of leakage or lost profit may seem high and you may feel it would not be at this level in your business, this is why PRS has developed our unique 3 stage approach to profit recovery auditing which starts with our systems "Health Check".

During the initial period (which may last up to 3 months) we conduct a detailed supplier review and then present a report of recoveries made to date, together with identifying the areas of weakness that most affect the business. This enables you to make an informed decision on the value of extending the recovery audit further into these areas of concern.

PRS help our clients improve their financial strength by highlighting those areas where errors have been made in the past, following this up with detailed reports and helping to prevent future losses through best practice recommendations on systems and processes. Our approach delivers both immediate results and ensures continuing bottom line performance improvements into the future.

We adopt a market leading approach to resourcing, combining the most experienced auditors alongside powerful and flexible analytical technology which offers the option to work offsite for most stages of the audit where required. However, we work closely and seamlessly with client staff, following disciplined project management and reporting with regular client visits to discuss findings and to ensure we build a true partnership relationship.

Our company philosophy is:

- Our work is entirely contingent on success, i.e. no recovery, no fee
- We perform all the work, but you, the client, retain control with complete visibility
- The security and confidentiality of our clients' data together with the sensitivity of existing relationships are paramount at all times
- Our team's business experience and recovery specialisms add value way beyond pure cash recovery
